FAQ's Flash Player Update

Flash Player and Recommended Browser

For many years Flash has been the key to interactive and engaging web content, however with newer technologies and security requirements, it's time to say "goodbye".

Ongoing issues with Flash's functionality and compatibility with modern browsers are getting worse with each browser release and in some cases are presenting issues that are unsolvable. Browsers have begun actively blocking Flash content in ways that users with limited access to their workstation settings will be unable to overcome.

Recommended Browsers
Microsoft has decided to discontinue Internet Explorer but continues to maintain the browser. The preferred browser from Microsoft is Microsoft Edge which supports the content and security requirements of our Learning Management System. We also recommend using Google Chrome and FireFox if Microsoft Edge is not available. All our content will no longer support Flash and will be published as HTML.
